Mr. and Mrs. Everett McPherson and three daughters left on Wednesday morning for the States where they expect to spend a couple of months' vacation. They expect to go by way of Yellowstone Park and on through the Central States to Illinois.

There was a good deal of merry-making in Vulcan on Thursday night when a number of the bride's and groom's (Miss Lang and Mr. Johnson) friends chivareed them. They were given a pretty rough ride around town but they took it all in a very good spirit.

Since the beginning of the holiday season considerable change has been in evidence in the local staff of the Canadian Bank of Commerce. E. H. WINS PEARCE TROPHY

At the convention of the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association, at London, Ontario, last week, The High River Times, High River, Alta., owned by Charles Clark, won the Pearce trophy for the best paper in a town of 1500 population or under.

LETHBRIDGE EXHIBITION

July 17 to 20 will be big days in Lethbridge, as on these four days the exhibition and race meeting will take place. Reference to our advertising columns will supply particulars of the various events, and it must be added that everything possible has been done to provide entertainment for all tastes and to assure comfort and convenience for patrons.

Vulcan citizens should not fail to take in the annual exhibition of the metropolis of the south.

A BEAUTY SPOT

Frank Keiver's garden is looking fine just now. Here may be seen in bloom: Red and yellow roses, columbines, peonies, nasturtiums, pansies, clematis, and other flowers, enclosed by a hedge of caragana and lilac. The more useful side of horticulture is represented by peas, beans, potatoes, onions, tomatoes, etc. The garden is well kept and reflects great credit on our soil and climate as well as on the head gardener, Mrs. Keiver.

FREE ENTERTAINMENT

The Tree Planting Car of the Canadian Forestry Association now on its tenth annual tour of the prairie provinces will be in Vulcan on Tuesday, July 16th, with a radio concert, radio talk on trees, and moving pictures in the evening at 8 o'clock. The car this year, completely renovated and with an entirely new set of pictures, the one on Tree Planting being a 'talkie' is attracting greater interest than ever before, and overflow crowds at every meeting have been the rule.

A NEW NAME ON AN OLD SHINGLE

For about eleven years the name of J. Naismith & Co. has appeared on a sign above a store in the Simington block, pointing out (also during Mr. Holmes' incumbency) to the buying public of Vulcan and district, the place where they may safely purchase dry goods of all kinds. Now Messrs. F. M. Anderson & Co. have had their name painted on the same old board. Mr. Anderson is no stranger to the premises, and desires to assure his company's patrons that under the new name, they may secure the same reliable standard of price and quality for which the store has an enviable reputation. Advt.

THE CROPS

Referring to the crops in this section the Lethbridge Herald says:

Speaking in a general way, the crop situation in Southern Alberta, south of a line drawn from Calgary to Lomond and thence to Medicine Hat could not well be better. The wheat is growing rapidly. Some of the early sown is coming into head, and practically all has reached the boot stage. The week end rains was therefore of the greatest importance in helping to fill the forming heads.

Winter wheat is all headed out, and cutting will start within about three weeks. It is a fine stand, good for 35 bushels or better.

ENJOYABLE DAY AT LAKE MCGREGOR

The picnic at Lake McGregor on Wednesday last was in every way a success. The weather was perfect, the attendance quite satisfactory, and the various events carried out without a hitch.

We have much pleasure in printing an account from a correspondent to whom our thanks are extended; he does not, however, mention the great improvement which would be made to the grounds by the addition of a grandstand and a few more shade trees, nor does he mention the Caledonian visitors from Vulcan who heartily enjoyed the excellent program presented.

First event was a baseball game between Queenstown and Milo. Result Queenstown 6, Milo 4.

Before this game was finished the athletic events were commenced and run according to program with the exception of the bicycle race, as there were no entries for bicycle race, this was changed to a half mile foot race, in which there were six entries, Ross Hollister winning first place, the name of second not turned in.

In the horse shoe game, McFadden and Palmer won first with Lockhart and Witting second.

In the tug-o-war, Milo defeated O. Hanson's team.

VULCAN BAND WINS PREMIER'S TROPHY

Roebuck, Fred Simington, Harry Washburn, and Sep Washburn, won the trophy presented by Premier Brownlee to the best musical organization in the morning parade at Calgary Stampede, came second in the afternoon contest. Frank Bird, the conductor, led his group through a series of difficult movements. He received the cup during the evening performance on the large platform in front of the grandstand.

At the competition which was held in the horse show arena at the exhibition grounds and was judged by Capt. T. W. James, director of music, Princess Pat's band; W. A. Leggett, conductor of the Calgary Shrine band and George Eltherington, conductor of the Calgary Elks' band, Vulcan Citizen's band who won the competition last year, took second place, securing 85 marks, and High River Elks band came third.

Frank Bird Wins

The solo contests were divided into two divisions. In the wood, wind or saxophone section, Frank Bird of Vulcan, leader of the civic band, emerged triumphant.

The Advocate joins the other citizens of Vulcan in extending congratulations to our band and its leader.

MRS. SMITH PASSES AFTER LONG ILLNESS

There was a feeling of genuine and general regret in town and district on Monday when it became known that Mrs. Smith had passed to the great beyond.

The deceased lady, whose name before marriage was Sutherland, was a much beloved resident of the Lake McGregor district and was eighty years of age, and her husband predeceased her two years ago; she had been a great sufferer for the last three years especially during the past few months and had borne her afflictions with Christian fortitude.

She leaves three daughters, two sons to mourn: Mrs. Mowatt of Dornoch, Scotland; Mrs. McIntosh, of Invergorrison, Scotland; Mrs. Pleasants, Lomond; James Smith of Lake McGregor, and Donald Smith of Snake Valley who had resided with his mother since the death of Mr. Smith and had tended her with loving care.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith came to this country from Scotland twenty years ago and had been married nearly fifty years when they were separated by the hand of death.

Sympathy is extended to the sorrowing relatives in their great loss.

The funeral took place from the United Church, Vulcan on Tuesday, July 9th and was largely attended, the floral tributes sent for the ceremony speaking of respect and affection for deceased and sympathy with the bereaved. The ceremonies at the church and the graveside were conducted by Rev. J. N. Brunton.

A PROMISING YEAR

"This looks to be one of our promising years" said a local farmer recently. And he sighed deeply. At first thought there seemed no occasion for sighing. But on consideration, perhaps he had learned that a promising year is not without burdens. There is a long, hazardous interval between the rich potential fields of late June and the final harvest season in September. The country side today whispers promises of release from financial worries of labor well rewarded—in the fall. There is a vast temptation to capitalize in advance on these promises, to feel that the harvest is already garnered. But it is not.

We must pass through a period when drought may threaten, when hail may sweep away the season's labor in one devastating hour, when frost may reach out its icy fingers.

Very often it may be noticed that seasons which do not promise lavishly, and in which people tighten their belts, cut their expenses and resign themselves philosophically—these discouraging seasons often wind up with a very reasonable yield, succeeding expectations. And very often too, the seasons in which our hopes have soared skyward, have not resulted so wonderfully for everyone.

So after all, it is not surprising that an old time farmer should sigh when he thinks of the anxieties which will bestride him in the coming two months. So very much is at stake.

But it is not given to man to be completely happy. And to a man every farmer, though he may sigh occasionally, is giving thanks for this promising year.

PAY YOUR OWN COSTS

Many people who have had motor car windows broken by flying stones, ricocheting from passing car wheels feel in their wrath that somebody should pay them some damages. But the Ontario Motor League Council, has decided that highways cannot be said to be in disrepair because stones fly up and break windows. It is the duty of highways to keep the road in repair. But if the highways were liable every time a loose stone flew up and hit a car, this would mean that every loose stone would have to be removed from every bit of highway. And this last is hardly feasible.

CANADA FOR YOUTH

Rabindranath Tagore, India's great poet says: "Canada has the great gift of youth. She has the stir of growth within her which should make her trust herself, the only sure way of trusting the world." The youth of Canada need to be taught the heritage which is ours. Our northern climate is a strength. Northern nations have always been world leaders. Canada has varied climates and resources as varied as the continent of Europe. Canada has room for seventeen countries as large as France, sixteen the size of Germany. British Columbia is as large as Austria, and the prairie provinces could swallow Russia. Ontario could contain Great Britain and Ireland with 20,000 square miles to spare. Our statesmen since Confederation have borrowed the best ideas of other countries in parliamentary and judicial spheres and we are proud of our government. We need on the part of our youth a patriotism as deep in years of peace as it proved in years of war. It must be intelligent patriotism to appreciate the fine qualities of other nations and to exercise patience. If our young country is imbued with a spirit of love for all that is holy and honorable in national life, instead of selfish self-interest, our future is secure.

DARE NOT DISARM

In the opinion of the Canada Chief Constables Association, the time has not yet arrived when the police forces can be disarmed. The Albertan comments:

"If police forces find disarmament inadvisable because of the lawlessness of individual, show much more cautiously should the nations move when there is lawlessness among nations."

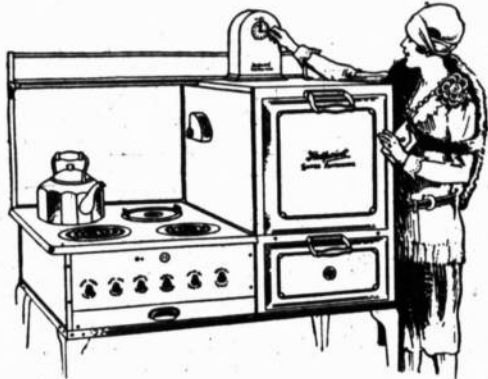

"Of course, it will be said, most of the nations of the world have agreed not to take up arms against each other. But so have most members of society agreed not to shoot each other even under the most provoking conditions and means are provided for forcing them to observe their mutual pact."

"Among the nations of the world there are still some who have not become parties to the agreement, who show no desire to become parties and have even refused to become parties. If our police cannot trust the members of society of which they themselves form a part, the nations, while very properly working toward disarmament, may well hesitate to invite their own annihilation by improper haste."

AIR MAIL CONTRACT

Mr. Veniot, Postmaster General, has turned over the Western Air Mail service to Western Canada Airways. This organization is strong financially and in experience. But many feel that commercial flying would have been encouraged if contracts had been distributed amongst several companies. By so doing, the government would not have allied itself with one company and would have given stimulus to others anxious to get a foothold in commercial work.

EXIT HOME WORK

New York has declared all homework "out." Not for the vacation season, but permanently. This would be better news if it were recorded of High River, but even so, it shows that educational authorities are adopting a more pleasant attitude of mind. Premier Ferguson of Ontario has also made harsh remarks against home work.

The indictments against this feature of school life are many. For one thing, the homes where homework can be favorably done are few. Especially in cities where living quarters are congested. A child trying to study in clamor and confusion is wasting his time.

Again, in higher grades where teachers are specialists, the homework problem grows acute. These specialists are enthusiasts each in his own line, and each is apt to demand his pound of flesh, regardless of other subjects. So an edict has been issued that, in case of these higher grades where a little homework is necessary, the teachers must reduce it to a minimum and no one must demand more than his share of time. No home work must be imposed as punishment. This also is "out." Other forms of penance must be adopted instead.

Homework poorly done defeats the purpose of the school. But homework done entirely too well, is also a common fault. All too often the tender thoughts of a mother loom gently out of hard-hitting ten year old Tommy's original composition. All too often father's free and fluent language crops up in little Mary's story of "Why I love animals. The ambitious parents who do their children's homework are after all cheating their children of independence.

If certain homework is considered desirable in other schools outside New York, Dr. O'Shea, superintendent, suggests supplementary reading, drawing, watching current events, making scrapbooks, nature study. All these are subjects which do not require sustained concentration.

The teachers are now required to teach the child to prepare his next lesson. Supervised study will figure more largely and the school must achieve its prime object—to train the child to think and to make proper use of school study periods.

The parents are rejoicing over the new reign in New York. It is the common lot of parents to build about themselves reputations of infallibility in educational as well as other matters. No sooner do children get a few grades along in school, than they begin to realize that their parents after all, know very little. Along comes homework which shoots holes in father's and mother's pretensions to knowledge.

So with no exposures of ignorance due to homework, parents may hope to maintain their prestige with their children for a few years. But all this is, so far, only true of New York.

CRIPPLED CHILDREN

Kows of little white costs out of doors in the sunshine, wheelchairs in the shade, big boys and small girls on crutches and little toddlers and smaller crawlers, such was the sight that met the view of Red Cross visitors on a June afternoon in Edmonton as they gazed at the crippled children who are patients in the Junior Red Cross unit of the University Hospital.

It was of special interest to observe the nationality of the little folk. A little form sat up in bed with all the dignity and immobility of a bronze Buddha and stared calmly at the strangers. It was little Cherry Blossom from Japan, whose mother is in the T.B. Sanatorium and whose father travels in from his home in the country to visit his little three year old girl. Daily getting better. Miss Japan has made great strides since entering the Red Cross wards.

From the solemn slow smile of her almost almond eyes we turned to the dark skinned southerner with woolly curls closely cropped leaning over his cot to point his toy gun at some tiny toddlers. Smiling from ear to ear and revealing glistening pearls of teeth Sambo assured us he is "Fine, thank you."

On then to a little Scandinavian maiden whose only language is her gentle manner and sunny smile for not a word of English can she speak. Nurses teach her how to say "thank you and please" and she is learning the Canadian greeting "hello."

Round one bed is a group of older girls all of whom are taking lessons daily from the visiting school teacher. Grades from one to eight are taught and according to their several ability the children progress. The tedium of life in hospital is thus greatly relieved, while at the same time a thorough education is given.

The last visit was paid to the nursery where a tiny girl baby was making eyes at a little boy of a year old. Both babes had deformed feet, and yet true to tradition were endeavouring to reach the little toes that peeped out from the cast of plaster. The visitors were delighted with what they saw and standing by the "Tiny Tim Cot" resolved to do their part for "The Least of These."

FOR WEED CONTROL

A thorough summerfallow will usually be the most effective method of bringing the most persistent growing perennial weeds under control. When it is necessary to resort to the summerfallow as a weed control measure, it is advisable to adopt some systematic rotation of crops, with regular seeding down to grass and legumes at short intervals.

Many farmers feel that they can ill afford to free their land of weeds by any method which will not give a crop of some kind. While the eradication of perennial weeds such as sow thistle, quack grass, etc. necessitates the use of the fallow, such treatment does not free the land from many annual weeds such as wild oats, mustard or stink weed, hence it is necessary from an economic standpoint to adopt farming methods that control rather than eradicate such weeds.

Land that is badly polluted with perennial weeds will produce an excellent crop of winter wheat or rye. Both of these crops act as smother crops for all types of weeds if they get a good start in the fall and do not winter kill.

Barley and oat green feed if handled properly will effectively compete against most of our annual weeds and many perennials. Land to be used for these crops should be partially fallowed before seeding. It is usually wise to disc the stubble a week or so before ploughing and thus promote germination of weed seeds which matured with the preceding crop and fell on the ground. A succession of such crops and treatments tends to reduce the weed seed content of the soil.

Seeding down to grass and legumes and cutting the hay crop early will prevent most kinds of weeds from ripening, thus decreasing the number of vital weed seeds in the sub-surface soil from year to year. Alfalfa and sweet clover are the best crops to use for this purpose.

Live stock and particularly sheep are valuable aids in weed control. Live stock are most essential to profitable agriculture on a weedy farm as many of the crops which control weeds are not cash crops and can be marketed to best advantage by the live stock route. In addition to this, many perennial weeds with a creeping root system such as quack grass can be much more easily eradicated if the land is seeded down and left in pasture for a few years until it becomes sod bound.

The Okotoks tax rate has been placed at 47½ mills, including the supplementary revenue tax of ¼ mill for the province, with 10 per cent. discount if paid before October 1. The business tax is 10 per cent. of rental value, with 5 per cent. discount if paid before August 1. The rural school rate is 9 mills. The requisition for school purposes is $11,000.

Raw furs to the value of $4,306,634.05 representing 1,447,918 pelts were exported from Alberta during the year ending June 30th, 1928, according to figures compiled by the Game Branch of the Department of Agriculture. While the volume of fur exports shows a considerable decrease from figures of the preceding year,

Smoking forests or smoking chimneys—

Over one-half of all Canada's industries depend on wood as a raw material. When the forests are destroyed mills must close down, railway earnings must suffer, trade must stagnate and prosperity must vanish.

Issued by authority of Minister of the Interior.

the value of the exports is only slightly lower. Included in the items exported were 21,789 beavers valued at $644,725; 508,136 muskrats worth $660,576.80, and 22,793 fox pelts valued at $884,870.

THE FORD CAR REAR AXLE

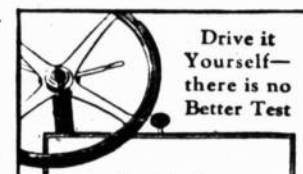

Expense no object in Achieving Perfection

THE rear axle of the Ford car is of the three-quarter floating type with spiral bevel gear. The pinion hub is exceptionally heavy, and, as the pinion is carried on double taper roller bearings, perfect alignment of the gear is always assured. The rear axle has a total of four roller bearings which add considerably to the cost of manufacture but are a protection for the owner against wear.

Special care is taken to insure silence in the pinion and ring gears. These are made up in sets and carefully matched, each set being run in to eliminate all possibility of noise in operation.

The differential side gears are forged integral on the rear axle shafts and the teeth then cut. This permits of lighter and more simple construction. The shafts are unusually strong, and, as the centre line of the wheel comes over the bearings, there is no overhang of the axle shaft, and it has no weight to support.

The use of malleable castings is eliminated in this new axle housing which is made entirely of steel. Bell forgings welded to steel tubing make up the shaft housing which is bolted to an all steel differential housing. The care and skill devoted to the manufacture and assembly of rear axle parts is typical of the high standards of Ford engineering.

time with several new horses in the Morrison of Crossfield, won first and Three Sons second with Spring Chief third.

Indian Race—Three Sons first;

ond; S. Rodbourne third.

Democrat Race—Weaslehead first;

Turn Race—Goodeagle first; Young

Lemon Race—Spring Chief first; F.
Shields second.

A few matched races were also run.
Next came the baseball game between Arrowwood and Lomond resulting in a win for Arrowwood, score 5 to 4.

Then the football game, Vulcan and Union Jack, score 2-2.

Next was baseball, the two winners of previous games. Score, Arrowwood 1, Queenstown 0. This was a very interesting game. Frank Keiver of Vulcan was umpire for all three games and seemed to find it easy to control all arguments.

After the ball game the helpers in the refreshment booths were kept busy serving refreshments and were able to fill all orders up to the last minute with the exception of ice cream which did not last quite as long as the committee would like.

Last, but not least, was the dance at the Milo and Queenstown Co-op.

The refreshment booths were under the management of O. V. Hickman of the Reid Hill local and he wishes to thank all people who so willingly and freely helped in the booths.

Ed. Synge of Kirkdale local, wishes to thank those who assisted him in athletic events.

H. C. Douglas of Berrywater local, was in charge of horse races and thanks all his assistants.

R. Broderick Jr. was in charge of football game.

R. Shore of Milo local, was dance committee.

Nels Eckland of Queenstown local,
was grounds committee man and had his hands full holding back the crowd.

In the good old days, even before the U.F.A. was organized, the few people here would gather together on July 1st or July 4th and often on May 24th, bringing enough and more in their baskets to feed any and all who had less, spread on the ground, tell stories and exchange views and get acquainted so that each one knew all his neighbors for forty or fifty miles. The children, and often the older folks, would indulge in games of all sorts known at the time.

We would pass the hat and divide the proceeds among the different contestants. "Them were the days."

That was when we would talk about taking 35 or 40 cents for hard spring wheat that weighed 65 lbs. per bushel finally we talked too much, just as we still do, until the U.F.A. was born.

After that each U.F.A. local would hold a picnic of their own and run a program of sports at or near their own centre, charging a fee of 25 or 50 cents. It will be remembered that this was all the sport we had without going to Gleichen, High River or Nanton by team or horseback.

Next, the Municipality of Marquis was formed and the ditch built from the Bow river to Snake Lake (now Lake McGregor) making a very good place to spend a day.

Next, all U.F.A. and U.F.W.A. locals in the Municipality would hold picnics of their own either at the Lake or on the Bow river and come back to the Co-op hall and dance the day out, and some times the next day in. About this time there were more entries in different sports and they made a charge of 50 cents to adults for expenses. A year or two later as sports increased the fee was raised to 75 cents. Everything was growing.

Finally there were too many picnics then all locals combined and under one management put on more modern sports at the old rate of 75 cents. The demand for more and better sports grew until it was dangerous for the committees to add to the prize list without more revenue to pay expenses.
This year the representative of each local interested in the picnic voted in favor of the $1.00 admission fee and they are all sure that nobody was disappointed with what they got for their money.

All under 16 years are admitted free and even adults who say they cannot spare the fee are never turned away. It is a U.F.A. and W.A. picnic and it is the privilege of any U.F.A. member to discuss this or any question in connection with the picnic in his or her local and direct your representative to vote any way you wish.

We do not think that many would want us to go back to passing the hat or the 25 cent rate or even to the 75 cent rate and reduce our sports accordingly. We do not know of any such line of sports as were run on July 3 by us for less money than $1.00. Any money above actual expenses is divided between the locals and they can spend it as they see fit. One local in particular has turned over their share towards payment on a community hall. Others for flowers to the sick or any other way they may build up their organization or community.

Henry Ford has again uttered words which are music in the ears of many: "If I had the choice, I should prefer to have employees between 35 and 60 years of age. For then we should have a stable and experienced force. We would not care how much over 60 the men were if they could do their work."
